

TILLBRIDGE SOLAR COOKIES POLICY

1. WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Our website uses 'cookies' to distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and also allows us to improve our site.

Most websites use cookies, including this one. A cookie is a small text file that a website sends to your computer or other device. When you visit a site again, the cookie is sent back to the website. This helps to make your online life easier because websites are able to remember choices you made and work more efficiently for you.

Cookies are plain text files. They can't run programs behind your back or infect your computer with a virus. They can't scan your computer for personal information.

2. HOW MAY WE USE COOKIES?

We use cookies to count the number of visitors to the site and tell us things like which pages are most popular, how long visitors spend on a page and the average number of pages viewed. Cookies don't tell us who you are or send us any personal information about you.

When you visit our website, our servers automatically capture and save the information electronically. Some examples of the information we may collect include:

- your unique Internet protocol address;
- the name of your unique Internet service provider;
- the city, county, and country from which you access our website;
- the kind of browser or computer you use;
- the number of links you click within the site;
- the date and time of your visit;
- the web page from which you arrived to our site;
- the pages you viewed on the site;
- certain searches/queries that you conducted via our website.

The information we collect in usage or web server logs helps us administer the site, analyse its usage, protect the website and its content from inappropriate use, and improve the user's experience.
